Introduction:

Central Board of Accreditation for Healthcare Institutions (CBAHI) is delighted to present the first seminar about Hospital Design. The healthcare industry in our region continues to thrive, with new world class developments being announced all the time. CBAHI will address the international best practice being employed in these designs and the underlying justification for how these standards have developed. You will enjoy the seminar presentations from international experts. The seminar present a unique forum for hospital designers, architects, planners and administrators to gather together and hear cutting edge insights into the latest in healthcare facility design including the latest in evidence based healthcare design, updates on accreditation issues, cost and project management, clinical facilities management, and the latest insights into how effective planning and design can impact clinical and organizational performance. As a professional involved in the design or upgrade of healthcare facilities you cannot afford to ignore these crucial issues.

As you may be aware, good design; innovative systems and the physical environment of healthcare facilities has a directly measurable effect on the quality of patient treatment, level of hospital performance and the job satisfaction of healthcare workers as well as the financial bottom line.

It is essential that not only hospital boards at the planning and design stage, but also existing facilities seeking to upgrade are able to combine the competing priorities of quality of care, safety, efficiency and satisfaction. Gain key insights and valuable information to ensure the successful design or upgrade of your healthcare facility.
